Lady, Your Weight Problem Ain't Nothing Compared to This !

Commercials and infomercials invade our televisions 24 hours a day. Unhappy about your weight? Buy Slim Fast. Want to tighten up? Order Ab-Master. Thinking to earn a degree? Write to Sally Struthers. Are you a Christian struggling with homosexual temptations? Tough.

I look forward to the day companies will offer something more significant than scalp paint and more innovative than a tool to help me turn radishes into rosebuds. I want to see commercials for the following:

enough to forge ahead toward freedom. In honor of these heroic fighters, we've created a new scent called Armor of God. Its light, woodsy scent is one you'll want to splash on daily. Once on your skin, it reacts with your body's chemistry to deliver a scent that's uniquely you. But Armor of God does more than just smell great.

Because Armor of God reacts with your body chemistry, it has been formulated to detect the chemicals your body produces when sexually-aroused and, within seconds, will transform from lightly-woodsy to drop-dead fecal. No one will want to come near you. That guy you've been cruising in the mall for the past hour will flee in the opposite direction.

So remember, don't let Satan catch you off your guard. Put on your Armor of God each and every time you leave the house.

Also available in anti-perspirant, body talc and mousse formulations.
